

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

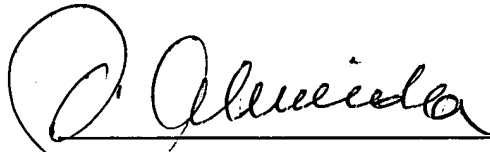

In response to Office Action mailed on July 06, 2005. Applicant has cancelled all previous claims in preference to a new set of claim, and the new set of claims address a single independent and distinct invention, in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.141. Since the previous independent claim were held indefinite and not clearly point to the invention, they have been cancelled in preference of the new ones accompanying this letter.

Independent claims 176, please find support at pages 17-36, figs. 11 and 12 specifically fig. 12 elements 1101, 1113 and 115. Since the previous office action the prior art of "Tobin" has been referenced and it does not teach any management means for including and excluding the virtual content, thus, a third element has been added to overcome Tobin. Independent claim 190, find support at pages 17-36, Independent claim 205, please find support at page 36 and titled "II) ON-LINE INTERFACE TRANSLATION METHOD". Independent claim 206, please find support at page 61 and titled "VI) SURF USER LIST". Independent claim 207, please find support at pages 17-36 and the arrangement of fig. 15 and specifically explained at pages 34-36. Independent claim 208, please find support at page 52-59 and titled "V) SATELLITE E-MALLS" (the independent claim 208 specifically relates to a previously revised paragraph at page 59 and it is included with this response with some new revisions).

Independent claim 211, please find support at pages 52-59 and titled "V) SATELLITE E-MALLS". Independent claim 214, please find support starting at page 65 and titled "VII) CUSTOMIZED WEB SITES ". Independent claim 218, please find support in the new re-introduced and revised paragraph accompanying this response and located at page 59.

Respectfully submitted,
